Subject: Leave Microsoft Alone

To whom it may concern,

Microsoft is one of the very few company producing high quality software products. In fact they are one of the few company that actually has great customer focus. AOL, Netscape could've competed with Microsoft if they were technologically competent. But unfortunately they lost to Microsoft's relentless pursue of perfection, AOL , Netscape resorted to the means of Law. This kind of action is not in line with Capitalism. Government should not get so involved in a free market society.

Leave Microsoft Alone, they've done nothing wrong, AOL or Any other company would've done exactly the same thing if they were trying to be competitive.
